As Eminem goes, so goes Pace Won... or at least that's the way it is on the Detroit rapper's current U.S. tour.

Eminem is making the rounds in support of his debut album, "Slim Shady," and he has Pace, Mixmaster Mike, and the Beatnuts along for the ride. While Mike and Beatnuts are known entities, Pace Won's place on the bill might require a little explanation.

The artist often referred to as Slim Shady is affiliated with a group of New Jersey-based MCs known as the Outsidaz, of which Pace Won is a card-carrying member. The Outsidaz also includes Young Z, Rah Diggah (of the Flip Mode Squad), Slang Ton, D.U., Yah Lover, Axe, Az Izz, Bizarre Kid, Denz, abd DJ Muhammed.

"They had heard me rhyming," Eminem recently explained to the MTV Radio Network. "And they was like, 'Yo, we want you to get down with us. We got a project we're working on,' and whatnot. And then I would make back-and-forth trips. When my production company could afford it, they would fly me out to Jersey and I would do recording with them and we did a few shows together."

The rapper has already recorded several tracks for the Outsidaz album, "Outsidaz Night Life," due in the fall. Meanwhile, Pace Won's album, "The Pace Won Effect," boasts the production talents of Wyclef Jean and Ski and is expected to arrive this summer.
